About me

The name ZýmĚ comes from Greek and means “yeast”, a fundamental element in the world of oenology, but also a symbolic element evoking naturalness—a core value in the professional and personal journey of Celestino Gaspari—and fermentation, understood as a constant attitude toward transformation.

In line with this philosophy, the company’s logo features a vine leaf inscribed with a pentagon, symbolizing the five essential elements in winemaking: man – vine – earth – sun – water.

“In the awareness of having received, we must give back”

This is the teaching from which comes the understanding that there can be no tomorrow without considering and respecting the ‘metabolism’ that Mother Nature demands.

To understand the life of the vine, every process must be respected.

From flowering to the ripening of the grapes, knowing and understanding these stages means giving identity to the wine. This is why we allow the vine to express itself freely, without force or invasive intervention.

Zýmē is a journey that aspires to enhance the balance and pleasantness of wine, in harmony with the character of the land and the authenticity of the producer.

“wine as a ferment for the mind”

Each label tells a story, revealing the project and its soul. A sensory experience not only for the palate, but also for the mind.
